

HIGH SCHOOL OPERAETTA A BIG SUCCESS

Playing to a house packed to standing room, the new operaetta by Otto M. Carrington, "The Torador's" was one of the local events of the year. The new musical hit was presented by the senior class of Sequoia Union High School, and an all senior cast took the various difficult roles in a most creditable manner.

The musical numbers of the new operaetta, while containing an unmistakable Spanish rhythm, have the same luring strain through them that has made the Myers and Carrington operettas popular everywhere they have been presented in the past. The cast was of great talent, and much credit for the success is also due to Miss Boyle for her skillful directing and untiring efforts during the time the rehearsals were in progress. The cast was as follows:

Signor Directorio, wealthy Spanish gentleman, Alfred Walker, Jr., admiral of Bonita.

De Alon Wentworth, Sr., and Whales, boggars masquerading as toradors.

Julian O'Neil and Geo. Hoffman, Bonita, Juanita, twin daughters of Signor Directorio.

Helen Crowther and Bessie Payne, Dolores, Maria, friends of Bonita and Juanita.

Ether Carter, Catherine Patterson, chorus of girls: Bernice Matin, Margaret Kalenborn, Evelyn Heyden, Beattie Ellis, Ruth Brascoso, Irma Gordon, Alma Brascoso, Victoria Converse, Adeline Hall, Letitia Saffery, Irene Carter.

Chorus of boys: George Clesse, James Coats, Robert McKee, Albert Thomas.

Ballet: Dolores Lyons, Alice Perry, Agnes Flynn, Eleanor Larrouy, Rosemary Ryan, Dorothy Beebe.

EL CAMINO CLUB TO DANCE TONIGHT

Local dance followers are to be treated to a rare treat this evening when the El Camino Club of San Carlos presents their sport dance at the San Carlos auditorium.

Lovers of terepore have looked forward many weeks with eager anticipation to this event and they will be rewarded by one of the most pretentious efforts ever put forth by a Peninsula organization.

The club has just completed a week of hard work in supplying the finishing touches to the decorations, lighting effects and musical arrangements. Last evening the floor and reception committee announced that their plans for the entertainment of the hundreds of guests expected were fully drawn up and were such to delight the heart of the most discriminating.

All of the younger set of Redwood City expect to be on hand when the dancing starts at 8:30 p. m.

Deer Cause of Near Accident

A peculiar accident was narrowly averted on the La Honda grade last Monday, when a large deer, in attempting to climb the bank to get out of the way of the stage, lost its footing and fell directly onto the stage, landing upon the hood of the machine. The frightened animal succeeded in escaping, leaving only some dents in the car to show where it had landed, but the stage had a narrow escape from wrecking while the animal was endeavoring to make good its get away.

Local Attorney Sued for Divorce

Action was filed yesterday in the Superior Court by Mrs. J. J. Bullock for divorce against J. J. Bullock, local attorney. Mrs. Bullock charges extreme cruelty and cites a long list of causes for the complaint. Mrs. Bullock is the third wife of the attorney, his first wife being still alive and his second wife dead. The action for divorce was not a surprise to those who are familiar with the business of the courthouse, as it had been expected since the filing of a suit by Bullock against his stepdaughter, Miss Marie Kaste, for recovery of his property, most of which he had placed in her name.

Faculty Holds Farewell Party

Twenty members of the faculty of Sequoia held a farewell faculty picnic at King's Mountain Wednesday evening. Several of the members will not return to the local school next term so the affair of Wednesday was the last get-together of the teachers who have formed firm friendships during the past ten months.

Grammar Schools to Close Friday

The Redwood City grammar and high schools will close next Friday for the summer vacation. The pupils will have a two months vacation for work and recreation.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL AWARDED TROPHY AT PAGEANT

Principal A. E. Montieth of the Redwood City grammar schools, is in receipt of a letter from the secretary of the Peninsula Fair Association stating that the booth and exhibit of the Redwood City grammar schools at the fair at San Carlos was of such a character as to deserve the highest award. Individual prizes were not awarded to any of the children whose work was on exhibit at the booth at the request of Mr. Montieth. As the space allotted to the schools was only large enough for the exhibition of about one tenth of the work which had been prepared for the fair, Mr. Montieth felt that it would be unfair to those whose work could not be on display to have individual awards made, and asked that if the work was of a character to warrant awards that the booth as a whole be awarded a prize.

THE BAY BRIDGE

Far be it from us to criticize the town trustees for their action in asking the War department to refuse the request for the franchise of the Webb bridge. We do not care to go into the merits of the proposition. But, we do feel that bridges are going to be built across the bay. There will be more bridges than the two at Coyote Point and Dumbarton. San Mateo county is going to be the center of one of the most densely settled sections of the western world. We feel that the erection of both of these bridges will help our county. We think that Col Webb should be allowed to build the bridge if he wants to. We don't have to buy any of the stock if we don't want to.

Our idea of the proposition is that every portion of San Mateo county is dependent upon every other part. Therefore we should all pull together; for by so doing we will soon have the best county of happy home owners in the state.

SPECIAL DAYS

There were two special days this week. Last Sunday was Children's Day, and Thursday was Flag Day. Both occasions were celebrated all over our country. Without the children there could be no Flag Day. Without a fine country of mothers there could be no children worthy of the celebration of Flag Day.

We in America have been fortunate in the mothers that have produced the fine sturdy stock of children that have always been with us.

Joaquin Miller sang:

"The greatest battle that ever was fought.
Was fought by the mothers of men."

Henry W. Longfellow wrote:

"Come to me O, Ye Children!
And whisper in my ear
What the birds and the winds are singing
In your sunny atmosphere.
For what are all our contrivings
And the wisdom of our books,
When compared with your caresses
And the gladness of your looks?"

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF AN EDUCATION

Last week a young man who had made a reputation at a neighboring university as both a scholar and an athlete was arrested for attempting to pass an altered green back. Fortunately he was caught at the very outset of his criminal career and has been indicted by the Federal grand jury.

Great publicity has been given to the case because of the young man's athletic prominence.

Such a start should be talked over with every boy in America. This young man was endowed by nature with a fine mind and a wonderful physique. He had been given a thorough education and should have thought of the character he had to uphold. Only a very foolish fellow could think that he could get away with such a scheme. A man with an education should want to be an example of probity and uprightness. He has been given superior advantages; he should give superior service to his community.

The young man in question has not only brought disgrace to himself, but he has caused his parents to have the keenest anguish. He will have to spend a number of years in a federal prison. When he finishes his term he will be a broken man. Last week he had the work of the whole world to choose from. He chose to enter upon a criminal career. Had he chosen otherwise he could have been honored and respected. Now he will always be an outcast and disgraced.

"The wages of sin is death."

AS TIME SHALL CHANGE

At the Peninsula Pageant of Progress we, with many others, watched a few Indians sitting around their grass huts and dancing their tribal dances. They were watched with interest, and as a curiosity, yet it is not more than twelve decades since the prototypes of these same redmen, roamed over the very scene of the fair and called it their own. Once a populous race in this valley, the tribe of the Ohlones is now extinct, and where the camp fires of the Indians left their debris in mounds, the mansions of San Mateo and Hillsborough now stand. It is interesting to look back in our county for a hundred and twenty years, the change has been rapid and great, but to consider the needs of the county for the next hundred years is the vital problem of today. The change in the future will probably be as great or greater than in the past, but whether that change will be all for good or not is up to you. Are you doing your part to make the ash heaps of today the mansions of tomorrow?

It is not often that we feel called upon to comment editorially upon a motion picture, but when we see one that carries a message as vital as that in the picture to show at the local theatre soon, entitled, "Brass" we must pass the word along. "Brass" is a good picture, with a vein of humor, a vein of pathos, and a solid foundation of good common sense. We do not hesitate to recommend "Brass" to our friends. It is a picture that leaves a clean taste in the mouth.

EDITORS HAVE GREAT TIME IN THE YOSEMITE

The thirty-fifth annual excursion of the California Press Association to the Yosemite Valley from June 3 to the 10th was the most successful outing of the editors in the history of the organization. Over 150 newspapermen from all portions of the state attended, all having a delightful time in California's wonderland. Governor Richardson, president of the association, accompanied the excursion, meeting the editors at Merced, arriving there in the old Ford in which he made his campaign. He drove the car as he did in canvassing for votes. The governor is thoroughly democratic, making all the trips with the editors, dining with them and participating in all their amusements. Mr. Richardson and his charming wife contributed in no little way in making the excursion the success it was. For the twenty-second time he was elected president of the association, an honor which he appreciated.

Those who attended the excursion from this county were D. E. O'Keefe and son, Edward, of the Times-Gazette, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Squires of Woodside. Mr. Squires is an old newspaperman and for many years has been the attorney for the association. Many of the laws relating to newspaper publications were framed by him; Mr. and Mrs. James D. Hedge, Redwood City Standard; Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Merk, Burlingame Advance; and Mr. Speed, South San Francisco. District Attorney Franklin Swart mingled with the pen pushers, he having attended the District Attorney's convention that met at the same time in the Yosemite Valley. Both parties dined at Yosemite lodge.

The newspaper men feel grateful to the management of Yosemite lodge and to the Yosemite Transportation Company, both concerns doing all that it was possible for them to do in making the stay pleasant and the service of the latter is the best in the country.

Yosemite Lodge's American Plan dining-room always gives satisfaction to the most critical, both as to food and service. Only food of the highest quality is served, prepared by experienced chefs in a kitchen that is operated largely by electricity. Fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, fresh salads, are received from the California markets by refrigerator express. Fresh milk and cream are obtained from the Yosemite Lodge dairy. Service at table is individual, by uniformed waitresses. In the cafeteria, European plan guests will obtain equally good food, deliciously prepared.

The cabin type resort, frequently mentioned in the West, has reached its highest development, and achieved its greatest popularity, in Yosemite Lodge.

Charming redwood cabins under the pines at the foot of Yosemite Falls, grouped around a community center of public buildings including office, dining-room, lounge, writing-room, broad veranda dance pavilion, theatre, tennis court, swimming pool, putting green and children's playground, compose the delightful resort in Yosemite Valley, the heart of Yosemite National Park.

American Plan accommodations of the highest class individual service at table, unobtrusive and unobtrusive effort to make the stay of every guest a pleasant memory for years to come have brought to the Lodge people of refinement from every state, and many foreign countries.

Tuesday morning the editors made a trip to Nevada Falls, some of the loveliest and most beautiful of the Yosemite Valley, the heart of Yosemite National Park.

The trip to Hetch Hetchy Valley on Wednesday was one of the enjoyable jaunts of the outing. The gigantic enterprise of the City of San Francisco in erecting a mammoth dam and conserving the billions of gallons of water for the people of that city is a monument to the enterprise and progressiveness of San Francisco.

Hetch Hetchy Project in Outline 1901—City of San Francisco filed claim to water rights on Tuolumne river.

1908—Secretary of Interior Garfield issued permit to City to acquire storage reservoir sites on public lands. Nature lovers began fight to save Hetch Hetchy Valley and controversy was thrown into Congress.

1910—City voted $45,000,000 in bonds to pay for Hetch Hetchy project.

1913—Congress passed bill giving City 420,000 acres of public domain. Preparation for building the big dam has included construction of 63 miles of railroad, many miles of gas line, and at Lake Eleanor, above Hetch Hetchy Valley, a buttressed arch dam 70 feet high and 1,300 feet long, with capacity of 8,200,000 gallons of water, to supply 4,400 horsepower of electricity.

Hetch Hetchy dam, seen under construction, will be the highest dam in the world. It will be built of Cyclopean concrete in two sections; the first will be 315 feet thick at the base, 15 feet thick at the crest, and 227 feet high, to which will be added 30 feet in thickness on the downstream surface and 85 feet in height. The completed dam will be 312 feet above stream level, with foundation 100 feet to bedrock below water, and will be 900 feet in length at the crest, which will be 25 feet wide. The dam will hold 112,000,000,000 gallons of water, furnishing 400,000,000 gallons daily to San Francisco and leaving ample for the Modesto and Turlock irrigation districts.

Water will be carried to San Francisco through 156 miles of aqueduct.

of which 87 miles will be tunneled through solid granite, and its fall to sea level will develop 200,000 horsepower of electricity for municipal use.

The system is planned to be put in operation in 1924.

The dam, now completed, creates a lake seven and one-half miles long in Hetch Hetchy Valley. The bill giving San Francisco the right to build the dam requires the city to construct a scenic highway around the lake and across the top of the dam.

Glacier Point is a fitting climax for a day that has been filled with spectacles and which demands something supreme to prevent disappointment. Even after Inspiration Point and the Mariposa Grove of Big Trees, Glacier Point stands out strikingly and in your memories of Yosemite will remain as one of the Park's greatest features.

The skyline of America is seen from Glacier Point, peaks and domes that are architectural in their majesty stretching for a hundred miles in the most impressive mountain view in the world. All the glory of the Sierra Nevada range is on parade, including a dozen peaks more than 12,000 feet in height and two that are more than 13,000, numberless domes typical of this glacial country, glistening waterfalls hundreds of feet high, but shrunk to a mere finger-length in this great panorama, and foaming rivers tumbling down their rocky cañons.

Just over the edge of the cliff at Glacier Point—just beyond the balustrade of beautiful Glacier Point Mountain House—lies Yosemite Valley, 3254 feet straight down! It is 28 miles by automobile back to the Valley, but you are so close to it here that the hum of automobiles on the roads below and the shouts of merry-makers in a swimming pool come to you clearly.

A short distance from the Mountain House is the famous overhanging Rock, jutting out into space over Yosemite Valley. Many foolish stunts have been done on this rock in years past and the government now has placed a railing across the entrance to it to prevent any visitor coming to grief. The railing does not interfere with the view but on the contrary improves it, permitting everybody to approach to the very edge of the cliff and look over with out a fear.

Glacier Point is famed for its sunrises and sunsets. Stop-over at Glacier Point is permitted gladly, if desired; there are many interesting places to visit.

Yosemite Valley seen from above in the light of evening is the outstanding experience of the return trip. A stop is made at Inspiration Point and the Arches Point view is constantly before visitors as they descend into the Valley.

The big trees were visited on Thursday morning. Nowhere in the world outside California can be seen the Sequoia Gigantea or Big Tree, which is the modern world's only living survival from prehistoric times. The Mariposa Grove in Yosemite National Park is the most famous of all groups of Big Trees because it is the most complete exposition of the species, containing trees in all stages of life—veterans that were contemporary with Tutankhamen before he was laid to rest at Luxor, trees that were in the prime of life when Jesus Christ walked the earth and still others which are mere stripplings, no older than visitors.

The Grove is reached from Yosemite Valley by way of Artist and Inspiration Points, from where Yosemite Valley is viewed with a perspective far up the granite faces of Tenaya Canyon. Lovely at all times, the placid Valley is seen on this trip in two different lightings, an experience which alone is worth a trip half-way around the world. On the outgoing trip, the sun is in the East and the great cliffs are seen in shadow while the forests and meadows of the Valley seem merged into a smooth carpet of many shades of green in the evening, on the return trip, the cliffs are bathed in sunlight. Bridal Veil scintillates like thousands of jewels and a soft blue haze cloaks the floor of the Valley.

Every evening the members of the excursion met and discussed topics of interest and enjoyed entertainments arranged by the officers. Governor Richardson in one of his addresses said that a number of useful laws affecting newspaper publications had been signed by him. He asked the advice of editors on other bills which he promised to sign on reaching Sacramento.

The excursion was not only one of extreme pleasure, but also one of inspiration and useful information, which the editors will carry home to use in their respective publications. They left the beautiful valley, sublime in its inspiration looking forward to the next annual meeting with pleasant anticipation.

A VICTORY FOR AMERICAN MOTORISTS

The Crude Rubber Monopoly weakened when it came into contact with aroused public sentiment. The press of the country today reflects the determination of the American motorist that tire prices shall stay at a reasonable level—and that America must produce its own rubber.

Firestone

Cuts Tire Prices 10%
EFFECTIVE JUNE 11

We announce a 10% reduction in tires and tubes effective June 11. The lowered cost of crude rubber and the special Firestone manufacturing and distributing advantages make this possible.

Firestone factories are organized on a basis of large volume and effective production. Costs are down, but quality is at its peak. Stockholder workmen are daily building many thousands of Gum-Dipped Cords—the best Firestone ever produced and, we believe, the leader on the market today.

Firestone cords took the first four places and eight of the ten money positions in the Indianapolis sweepstakes, May 13, without a single tire failure.

Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords have set new standards in mileage, traction, comfort and safety. Car owners have expressed their approval of the extra value in Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords by increasing their purchases 194% in the past six months.

We have replaced many expensive branches with warehouses. We now have 108 distributing points which are delivering Firestone tires to the consumer at the lowest cost in our history.

Follow the tide of economical tire buying—equip with Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords—and learn what Most Miles per Dollar means to you.

Tremont's Expedition to California

HISTORY tells us that Colonel Fremont's famous expedition to California, organized in May 1845, was for the purpose of finding a shorter route between the Rocky mountains and the Columbia River. The Colonel arrived in the West with his soldiers in time to win California for the United States.

The vigorous spirit of the pioneer and the builder, exemplified in the work of California's first settlers, is being preserved and perpetuated today in the statewide facilities of California's largest bank—the Bank of Italy.

better lubrication at half the price

If you could get better lubrication with high-priced oils in return for the fancy price you pay, well enough—but the superiority of Zerolene in each of the following tests has been demonstrated repeatedly:

1. Zerolene follows closely the changing clearances of the moving engine parts; it maintains perfect piston seal always.
2. Zerolene absorbs less gasoline than other oils; it resists dilution and useful information.
3. Zerolene forms less carbon; it cuts carbon removal operations from 25% to 50%.

The reason is this: Zerolene is produced from selected Western Naphthenic Base Crude, and vacuum-distilled by the exclusive high-vacuum process developed by this Company.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less.
